This type of publication is every thing and helped me seeking ahead and much more. It usually fails to charge too much. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

R. 821: Hearing Before the Subcommittee, Housing and Memorial Affairs of the Committee on Veterans Affairs, House of Representatives, One Hundred Third Congress, First Session, June 10, 1993 The subcommittee met, pursuant to call, at 9:35 a.m., in room 334, Cannon House Office Building, Hon. George E. Sangmeister (chairman of the subcommittee) presiding. Present: Representatives Sangmeister, Burton, Buyer. Opening Statement Of Chairman Sangmeister Mr. Sangmeister. The subcommittee will be in order. I m pleased to welcome all of the witnesses to discuss the programs and operations of VA s National Cemetery System, Arlington National Cemetery and the American Battle Monuments Commission. Let me first extend a personal note of congratulations to Jerry W. Bowen, who is making his first appearance before the subcommittee in his position as the newly confirmed director of the National Cemetery System. We had a personal visit in my district about a week ago. It certainly was rewarding I would like to think, for both of us. Jerry, I look forward to working closely with you and your staff. The VA s National Cemetery System, as most of us know, consists of 114 national cemeteries, 59 of which are open to first family interments while 55 are closed except to eligible family members of those already buried. Over the next decade, we must focus our attention on identifying additional gravesites in our national cemeteries to meet the needs of an aging veteran population. Not only must we ensure that the honor of burial in our national shrines is available to veterans, but we must strive to ensure that all graves are perpetually maintained at the highest...
